A Different Kind of Bloodline

Combining into one liturgy the “Hosanna!” of the triumphal palm procession and the “Crucify him!” of the passion drama—especially as filtered through Paul’s image of the “exalted” slave—invites a meditation on the mystery of Jesus’ sovereignty.

How can we Americans or Canadians grasp what it means to have or want a king when we reject the notion that bloodline conveys the right to rule? And yet, thanks to fairy tales, the Arthurian legends, and Shakespeare we have some inkling of the power, privilege, and even “divine rights” of royalty. We can use our imaginations to muster up a rousing “Ride on, King Jesus!” Then we can appreciate the incongruity: this king has to borrow a donkey, a room, and a tomb. Then, even more confounding, is that this king, “who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God as something to be exploited” and even borrows our human likeness—including our death (Phil. 2:6).

Judas and Pilate are symbols of all humanity—including the church, to its shame—in their desire for a grand royal gesture: start a revolution, call in your army, dazzle us with eloquent testimony. Jesus resists every such temptation and embraces the mortal human scale of his limited earthly reign.

Jesus prophesied that when he was lifted up all the world would be drawn to him; Philippians proclaims that “every knee should bend” and “every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord.” So, whose knee will bow at the name of Jesus? All those who, following Jesus and trusting the faithfulness of God, are drawn to attend fully to human life, need, and mortality.

In monarchy, leaders lead by virtue of divine sanction of a particular bloodline. Our fond hope is that leadership is bestowed on the basis of merit, hard work, and authentic charisma. Our cynical fear is that it is bestowed on the basis of money, influence, and cronyism. The witness of Passion Sunday is that Jesus’ credential is innocent blood shed in obedience to God for the sake of the broken.

NOISY OFFERING IN LENT

TODAY WILL BE THE LAST DAY

WE COLLECT NOISY OFFERING for this cause.

If you wanted to make a donation and did not have the chance to donate yet, you can bring it to the office tomorrow. Thank you!

The $1,700 debt held by our Living Waters Conference has been paid. We continued to collect noisy offering for our future Feed My Starving Children Mobile Pack. Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) believes hope starts with food. As a Christian nonprofit, FMSC is dedicated to seeing every child whole in body and spirit. FMSC works with food distribution partners that stay with communities for the long haul, empowering them to move from relief to development. Our Living Waters Conference together with Feed My Starving Children are committed to the goal that no child goes to bed hungry.

COLLECTIONS The Board of Life & Growth collects used stamps, pop tabs, eye glasses and receipts from David's Marketplace. The WELCA group receives 1 tenth of 1% of all receipts collected. This can really add up and help. The baskets for these items have been moved to the Narthex. They ask that receipts do not get rolled up.

DAYCAMP AT SALEM Save the date--

Salem will be hosting Ingham-Okobojo Day camp the week of August 2, 2021

DONATIONS

--The Board of Life & Growth is collecting Donations in the Narthex.
--PERSONAL CARE KITS are needed now more than ever, to help protect vulnerable families from COVID-19. Items needed are bath towels (dark colors), 4 oz. bars of soap and toothbrushes.
--HAND TOWELS in good condition are needed for Baby Care Kits.
--SHEETS in any condition are needed for backing and lining of quilts.

SUMMER CAMPS

The Board of Youth would like to remind everyone to sign up for summer camps. Early Bird deadlines are quickly approaching. In the past, the Enduring Gift Committee has helped to pay remaining balances after parents make the down payment. Please forward your receipt email from camp to the Salem office after you have registered and paid the deposit.

Our Big God

They forgot the God who had saved them, who had done great deeds in Egypt...
Psalm 106:21

When I am faced with an obstacle or situation that looms large before me, I can measure myself against it and lose heart. When I feel myself shrinking, I need the reminder that God is Big. It's nice to have a friend or family member take hold of me and remind me. It's even better when I remember how to remind myself.

How many times has God saved me? Every. Single. Time.

Then out loud, or on paper if it helps me to see ink on the page as proof, I list all the times God has come through for me or for the people I love. Every time I thought there was no answer and he answered me or gave me new questions. Every time I thought I was out of options and he opened an unseen path before me. Every time I thought I would fall apart and he held me together. Every time I thought I wasn't enough and he showed me that with him, I was. Every time I was inconsolable and he consoled me.

Remember.
